DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 10-33 are rejected under 35 USC 102(b) as being fully met by Suenaga.

Suenaga discloses a drumhead and muting structure for electronic percussion instruments which comprises (Figs. 2,3,6) a barrel 10, head 11 (see Col 3 line 50 - Col 4 line 27), cushioning member 22, transducer 51, supporting structure 20.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 10-33 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nomura in view of Heybeck.

Nomura discloses an electronic drum which comprises a barrel 14, head 12, cushioning member 16, transducer 24, supporting structure 16. Nomura does not explicitly disclose the head having a head material through which air may pass.

Heybeck discloses a drumhead which comprises several layers of woven fabric through which air may pass. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to adapt the Nomura teachings with those of Heybeck so as to allow for air to pass through the drumhead and allow for more muting of the drum and a better tone.
